Reading

Activity/Question: In your reading journal, please record a comment that shows you have made a prediction about what will happen next in the text that you are reading.

Example: In Arthur and the Golden Rope, by Joe Todd Stanton, I predict that Arthur will find a map which will lead him to the items that he desperately needs to trap Fenrir. Because he is so adventurous, he will follow the map himself and reach the items successfully. I would like it if Arthur could be the hero that saves the town, because he is a likeable, misunderstood character.

Writing/English

Current project/clarification: See attached PDF for the story we have been studying in class, The Dragon's Hoard. Across this week, you are going to be writing the story in your own words. If you have been here this week, you will have your plan and build up work to support you with this. If not, you may wish to write a plan first (see PDF attached). Please complete your writing work in your personal writing book. By the end of the week, we would like you to have completed your story and edited/proof-read it yourself. It is up to you if you want to write a paragraph a day or write the whole story in one sitting. Use the plan to help you with the structure.

Maths

CGP Book Pages: 36 and 37- Dividing by 10 and 100 revision.

Online: It is TTRockstars week! Please complete the usual 10 GARAGE games this week and do one SOUND CHECK each day (7 across the whole week!)
