Prompt questions about an alternate version of Saint George and the Dragon

For this activity, you will need to think about the story of Saint George and the Dragon in a different way. We are preparing to write our own version of Saint George and the Dragon next week. In our story, we want the reader to feel sorry for the dragon! Please write your opinions and ideas for each question point below.

1. Was the dragon really the evil, tormenting creature he was made out to be? How might the villagers have misunderstood him?
2. Why else could the dragon have been in the village?
3. Did the dragon ask for the sheep or did they just give them to him? Did he ever ask the village to sacrifice their people?
4. Why might the dragon have wanted a princess? Did he want to eat her or was he lonely?
5. How did the dragon feel when George came to attack him?
6. How did the dragon feel when he was tied up and taken to the town?
7. What did he say and do when George left?
