Reading

Can you write all the digraphs and trigraphs you know on pieces of paper. If you aren't sure then you can use the sound mat to help. Ask an adult, or someone else in your house to say a sound. Can you turn that sound over as quickly as you can? Continue this until you have turned over all the sounds. Can you say the sounds for someone else to turn over?

Remember a digraph is 2 letters that makes one sound, and a trigraph is 3 letters that makes one sound.

Writing/English

Have a look at the pictures of butterflies (see below). Chose a picture and write what you can see. What colours are there? Can you see any patterns? What is the butterfly doing?

e.g 'It has red wings' 'it sits on a pink plant'.

Remember to form your letters carefully, finger spaces, capital letters and full stops.

Last week we learnt about doubling. Can you tell your grown up what we did? Watch Miss Stoneman use a mirror to find double a number. Can you do this at home?

Can you record your findings?

Can you play Numbots?
